History

Founded in 1974, WRCT is one of Americas oldest continuously operating public access stations. Originally known as York Community Access Television (YCAT), it was re-branded to WRCT when it became a Public Education and Government (PEG) station in 2005.

Partnership

In 2015 WRCT partners with Weary Arts Group (WAG). WAG is a collective of arts industry professionals providing a wide variety of arts training and education for people of all ages. WAG's primary goal is to create sustainable arts programming for the residents of York, PA and the surrounding communities.

Weary Arts Group is dedicated to the promotion of artists and arts education in York, Pennsylvania and around the world. Arts for everyone! Visit the Weary Arts Group website for course schedules, special events, photos and general information. www.WearyArtsGroup.com
